

Business Post

Trusted Business Journalism

■ Data Edge, an Irish company which provides equipment to telecommunications companies and equipment manufacturers, announced the appointment of Martin O'Leary as senior account manager at the company. O'Leary, who previously worked with Ricoh Ireland, the software consultancy company, will lead the expansion of Data Edge's client base and extend its telecom network. He holds a master's degree in energy management from Dublin Institute of Technology

Business Post
13th June 2021